Norwegian Forces Are Pushing German Back Through Gomma Valley

NORWEGIANS TIGHTEN WAR ON NAZI LINE

Soldiers and Swedish Volunteers Celebrate Victory

By FRANCIS MEACHEN

ROSEN, Norway, May 2.—Norwegian soldiers and Swedish volunteers, their confidence increased by their surprise capture of the key Gomma valley from the Germans, consolidated their position today and prepared for offensive operations against the apparently tight-held German communication lines.
The recapture of Gomma was celebrated as the first Norwegian victory of the war, and the effect on the Norwegians and their Swedish volunteers, comrades since the war, new confidence and plans to extend their victory, aided by machine guns and the supply of munitions the Germans left behind them. Armed with their own weapons, the troops followed the highways out of Gomma.
Some hundreds of the two thousand men of Gomma returned to town from the mountains where they had fled when the Germans came. They had a gay May Day, considering their position, with such food as the Germans had left.

Former Pastor Of City Passes

TORONTO, May 2.—Rev. James Buchanan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, died at his home in Toronto, Ontario, yesterday, at the age of 84.
Rev. Buchanan was born in Scotland, he came to Canada in 1870, and was ordained as a minister in 1890. He was a member of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, and was a prominent leader in the church and in the community.

War Contracts

OTTAWA, May 2.—War-time contracts for the production of munitions and other war materials are being placed at a rapid rate, according to a statement today by the War Production Commission.
The commission, which was established in 1939, is responsible for the production of war materials and for the distribution of these materials to the armed forces.
The commission has been successful in securing the production of a large number of war materials, and it is expected that the production of these materials will continue to increase in the future.

PREMIER KING PLUNGES INTO HEAVY DUTIES

Large Amount Of Work Faces Cabinet Before Session Opens

OTTAWA, May 2.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King returned from his vacation yesterday to plunge into a whirl of pre-session government activity.
With two weeks remaining before the parliament opens, numerous decisions undoubtedly will be made by the cabinet. Plans of Hon. J. L. Balcan, finance minister, for the 1940 budget likely will be discussed at the council table before the session opens.
Of more immediate interest is a number of necessary and probable decisions for the cabinet. The organization of parliament and the cabinet, the House of Commons and the House of Lords, will be discussed, although the names likely will not be announced until opening of the session.
Some changes in the cabinet may be made. The addition of a secretary of state is still vacant and Mr. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, is expected to be appointed as minister of justice, it is believed.
Rumors of his possible retirement from active politics are heard. Linking his name with the post of secretary of state in the event of the retirement of Hon. Balcan, who is 72 years of age, is another rumor.

SOME RELIEF SECURED FOR GAS DROUGHT

Gasoline-Laden Trucks
Roll Into B.C. From Border States

VANCOUVER, May 2—Gasoline-laden trucks rolled into British Columbia today from bordering American states to provide partial relief from the province's week-old fuel famine.

Limited quantities were available to motorists in the East and West Kootenay districts, while Vancouver secured a 5,000 gallon shipment, first of a 30,000 gallon daily supply Mayor Telford last night said would be had from Seattle sources.

SUPPLIED BY INDEPENDENTS
The importations were arranged by independent dealers after British Columbia oil companies requested delivery of gasoline to service station instead of the provincial government order reducing the wholesale price three cents a gallon.

O. J. Knight, of Cranbrook, said that tonight tomorrow, he could supply that East Kootenay city and district with gasoline sufficient for its needs as long as needed. He quoted the long-term contract price at 36 cents a gallon, which included the provincial tax. He refused to divulge the price of his supply.

In addition James Kerrigan will supply gasoline imported from Montana, also at the government price.

Kerrigan also had down 800 gallons of fuel from Spokane, Wash., at Nelson, in the West Kootenay, for apportioning among dealers and cars which were lined up for blocks at the four pumps of one service station to replenish supplies cut off by delivery suspension last Friday.

FUEL IS DOLED OUT

Generally the fuel was doled out three gallons per car with exceptions in the cases of commercial travellers and other persons who had lengthy trips ahead of them.

Three garages arranged to take the first shipment of Seattle gasoline to Vancouver, with several others, all independently, reported on the list for future deliveries.

The fuel was estimated to cost just under 25 cents a gallon truckload in Vancouver and sold down to garages at that price for their retailing at 36 cents a gallon. Elsewhere in the province traffic was held up or driven eastward where little gasoline remained in tanks for emergencies.

At Kamloops in the southern interior most stations were practically out after several days of rationing at two gallons per customer, but there was no apparent effort to replenish supplies from outside sources.

A similar situation prevailed at Kelowna in the Okanagan River growing belt.

DEADLOCK REMAINS

As previously announced by the oil companies, the ban did not apply to essential services which were to obtain gasoline at the companies' bulk plants.

Meanwhile there appeared no break in the deadlock between the oil companies and the government which has called a special session of the legislature for next Friday to deal with the matter.

The companies' position regarding restoration of former price levels while their representatives reviewed the entire situation with the government. The government refused to rescind its order, announced the legislature would take up "further measures which will be in the public interest."

No Election Will Be Held Over Issue

VICTORIA, May 2—Premier T. D. Pattullo yesterday rejected a proposal for a 72-hour suspension of the provincial government's order reducing wholesale gasoline prices and said he had no intention of calling an election on the issue of the oil industry's refusal to accept the price cut.

"I said several weeks there would be no election," the premier said. "I have no intention of calling an election over the gasoline issue."

Mayor Telford Says Firms Block Plan

VANCOUVER, May 2—Mayor Telford said today that major oil companies in Seattle were blocking his plan for rationing in gasoline from that city to ease the shortage existing here since the oil industry suspended deliveries to service stations last Friday.

The mayor announced yesterday that independent retailers in Vancouver had put up the case by blocking the plan.

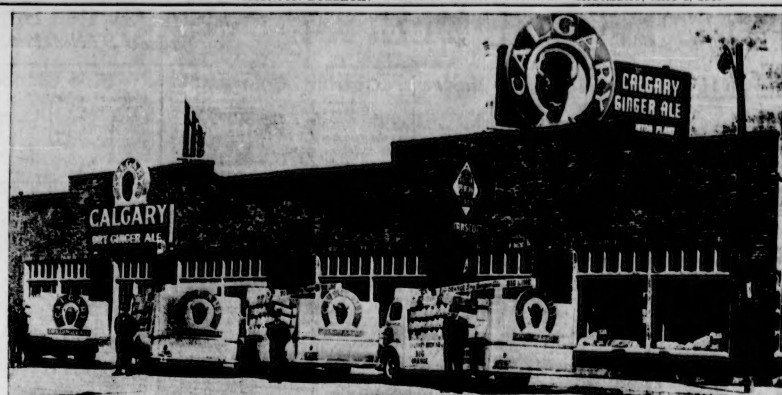

The mayor said the city could receive 50,000 gallons a day with 1,000 gallon trucks making the 150-mile trip daily.

"We're all here," he said today. "We've put up the cash and made all arrangements, but the oil companies in Seattle are blocking transportation."

The mayor said no trucks had left Seattle, although the first load of 50,000 gallons was expected to roll northward last night.

This is the new home of The Calgary Brewing and Malting Company Ltd. in Edmonton

Business expansion during the past two years made it necessary for the company to find more commodious quarters. The Edmonton branch plant is now located in the old Freeman building on 101 street where extensive structural alterations have been effected by the Calgary company. Outside the building are parked the gleaming silver and red trimmed trucks of the company.

Calgary Brewing Spends $30,000 On Soft Drink Bottling Plant In City

Approximately $30,000 has been spent by the Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Ltd. for the property and renovations to its Edmonton branch in which the famous New Calgary Ginger Ale, Big Orange, Big Lemon, Big Lime, Big Punch, sparkling soda water and Pepsi-Cola are bottled for distribution throughout northern Alberta.

The new plant, one of the most modern in Western Canada, is located on 101 street, immediately north of the Technical school, increased demand and preference for "Calgary" soft drinks in Edmonton and district has made it necessary for the plant extension which has just been completed.

Two years ago the old brick building of the Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. was opened in Edmonton and this important addition to the Edmonton plant is indicative of the company's faith in the commercial future of the district.

KEEPING FAITH
In making this addition the company feels "it is keeping faith with persons who have made this expansion possible," stated William Gordon Williams, branch manager.

The new Calgary Brewing and Malting plant will give employment to at least 15 people, and plans for further extension are being taken under advisement.

The plant is a gleaming white edifice has been the centre of attraction on 101 street during recent weeks, and daily crowds of people are attracted to the spacious front windows to watch the intricate machinery clean, bottle, label, cap and cork the products of the plant for delivery to customers.

CLEANING MACHINE
First of the intricate machinery in the bottle cleaning machine is this machine bottles are sterilized and rinsed. From the cleaner the bottles are carried on a conveyor belt to the filling machines where the juice of the finest "Pepsi-Cola" California fruits are bottled under scientific methods to ensure the best possible quality and flavor to the consuming public.

Distilled water, filtered and cleaned is passed through a filter, bringing the water from 72 degrees to 38 degrees before being blended with the fruit juice. From the bottling plant the conveyor carries the bottles to the labeling, capping and heading machine.

FAMOUS LABEL
In this machine the famous label, the horseshoe and buffalo head, is attached to the bottles, the foil is placed on the crown of the bottle and the caps pressed tightly on to keep the sparkling quality of the drink in good condition. Leaving the capping machine the bottles are carried along the conveyor to a revolving assembly table where they are packed in cartons for delivery to the consumer.

Goods for shipment to districts and delivery in the city are conveyed by the gleaming silver and red trim delivery trucks operated by the company.

STAFF
Manager William G. Williams has been in charge of the company's operation in Edmonton since the plant opened here. He has been with the company for more than eight years, and has 18 years experience in the bottling industry.

The office manager is J. L. King and J. Watt, formerly of Regina, is in charge of the bottling and shipping department. The company has a further large truck unit in delivery service to keep pace with the ever growing demand for "Calgary" products.

TRUSCOTT TIRE NOW GROWN TO LARGE PLANT

From a modest beginning six years ago as a vulcanizing plant in Edmonton employing three men, the Truscott Tire Ltd. now housed in the Freeman Building, 101 street, has grown into one of the city's most thriving industrial plants giving employment to more than 40 skilled mechanics.

Under the management of E. C. Truscott, the growth of this firm has been steady and sustained, and recently it was necessary through business expansion to find new quarters. Space was secured in the Freeman building, one block east of the original plant's location.

Six years ago the Truscott company started operations. Shortly after opening for business the re-treading was added by the company's operations.

Next extension of the company's activities was the introduction of the budget-sales plan, the company handling the Gotta-Percha tires. This plan was followed shortly afterwards by the introduction of the company's trade in at "half-time at half-price" policy.

Later a new process of "re-capping" tires known as the "B. and F. pressure" method was introduced by the company for re-treading truck tires. It has been the policy of the company to study and take all developments which tend to cut costs.

Another innovation by the company is the "Tire-Tire", the only department of its kind in Canada. In this department patrons may select their new or used tires, inspect it with apparatus supplied by the company and make their purchase in the same measure as a customer does in a grocery store.

BRITISH M.P. HAS WARNING FOR IL DUCE

LONDON, May 2—Brigadier General Sir Henry Page Croft, Conservative member of parliament, conveyed an indirect warning to Premier Mussolini in a speech before the Prime Minister.

"Every German capital ship, cruiser or destroyer," he said, "the Allies can dispatch two capital ships or cruisers to any other ocean, such as the Mediterranean."

He said the British navy is fully ready to enter the conflict on Germany's side.

Asserting that Norway had been betrayed, Sir Henry declared that "had she asked our protection before the event and also had fought, we could have held all her ports and even today no troops would have entered Oslo."

He estimated that the German death toll in Norway would be 25,000.

NO CASUALTY LIST YET FROM H.M.S. BITTERN

LONDON, May 2—The Admiralty said today that no casualties have been reported in the loss of H.M.S. Bittern off the Norwegian coast. Making a formal announcement of the sinking of the vessel, reported from Norway yesterday, the Admiralty said:

"The Admiralty of the Admiralty regrets to announce the loss of H.M.S. Bittern, a ship of 1,100 tons. Lieutenant-Commander R. H. Mills, who was on board, was killed after prolonged fighting in which one aircraft was shot down in flames and others severely damaged, was set on fire.

"Efforts to extinguish the fire were unsuccessful and the crew were taken on board another warship. H.M.S. Bittern was finally sunk by our forces in order to avoid her becoming a danger to navigation."

"No casualties have yet been reported. The ship's complement consisted of 125 men. She was a minesweeper."

Fashion Sunday's Style Feature To Attract Edmontonian to Stores at the Week-End

SPRING has broken through the mist of winter to bring hours of sunshine and days of warm, balmy weather to sunny Edmonton, and all Edmontonian is getting into festive mood to welcome the most pleasurable time of the year. With skirts turned to shimmering blue and sunshiny gleaming again over Edmonton streets, thoughts of all-fashion-conscious men and women alike have turned to summer and spring-time clothes.

Noted already on the streets these past few days have been many exciting and new creations to claim the most casual of eyes, but they have been just a prelude to what is to come.

Spring officially comes to Edmonton on Sunday, May 5. Heraldized by warmer weather and acclaimed and welcomed by the "Fashion Sunday" novel, "Spring" will herald by "Fashion Sunday" the first of a long and eventful month.

IN GALA MOOD
Fashion Sunday, as its name implies, will see Edmontonian created in gala mood—to wit, summer skirts and soft warm weather, elegant and modern, and created by the stunning and lovely clothes Edmontonian will choose to wear Sunday of this week.

Golf courses will be the rendezvous for many folk this week-end. Here you will see new and stylish fashions. Avenue will be thronged with the "Fashion Sunday" strollers in their gayest of spring attire, and everywhere will be a gleaming welcome to the new and the old.

The shops have been ready for some weeks for the "Fashion Sunday" and this week-end are showing their latest and most stylish creations. To the end that Edmontonian may be well dressed on "Fashion Sunday" they have co-operated with the Edmonton Bulletin in preparing a special "Fashion Sunday" feature, and are in the columns of The Bulletin, special advertisement displays, designed to catch the eye and to appeal to all. Look, then, on Friday for the advertisements. They will be in their accustomed places in The Edmonton Bulletin, and will be to include special mention of style and fashion news.

PRAGMATISM IS WORD
Dune Fashion has been seen as close to women—to men for that matter—in her desires for the suitable wear for the day. The essential warm-weather caution has been at all times, practicality, her demand on style, and style organization.

Mildly should be well suited to the dress, if the shops wisely and well. Soft delicate damask suit fashions for spring and summer 1940, and the silhouette demanded for this year is very simple and very easy to acquire. A more delicate and delicate line of waistline effect, and informal good-looking or pencil-line, the regulation of easy to acquire.

Navy blue and black dominate the color pattern, with grey coming a close second.

This season is as well as a "tailored season," a jacket-and-skirt spring. For street or business a plain skirt with tough tweed or soft flannel jacket, provide an ideal combination.

There are galas of color modes in the smart fresh printed frocks Edmontonian stores are showing.

Line, corded, peacock, coral tones and blue are combined with contemporary style. The new and simple of dress even more popular, even more lovely. Daytime dress charming. Scarlet, with a touch of black with beige or yellow with khaki, are good tones.

FAVORABLE COMMENT
Accessories in down-town stores are attracting much favorable comment this week-end, for with the chic costume suit or dressmaker's dress, the accessories are especially attractive dress features. Bags are large and very simple, and are of over-the-shoulder and long, and are of the "third dimensional" effect. The pink accessories with a blue, green, blue-green, and blue, are very different but very lovely.

There are a story in the hair. The hair is very simple, and is seen first and definitely make or mar the dress. The hair is very simple, and is seen first and definitely make or mar the dress.

There are really no robes in America. The name itself is a misnomer. The robes are really robes, and are really robes, and are really robes.

DESIGN NO. 441—SEMI-EMBROIDERED KITCHEN TOWELS

The lovely plain table are handsome gifts, and a real asset to a well equipped kitchen. They help so much to make the task of dish-washing lighter. Nothing adds more to the gaiety of a kitchen than a row of towels made bright and pretty with simple stitches and colorful threads. These designs (the transfer includes two of each pattern) have been selected because they give you the best possible effect with the least possible amount of stitching.

The pattern includes transfer for six towels, together with complete stitch and color charts.

Please allow a week or ten days for delivery.

Now that in some of our high school boys are being taught how to cook and bake, girls given elementary instructions in plumbing and electricity as they can use the kitchen sink when they dig and put new fuses when they blow out, prospective fathers are being instructed that you don't have a baby like that in a sister's pig, it does look as if a new and more peaceful order in marriage was about to be inaugurated.

And the fact that the husband goes to the matrimonial sea on which the good ship Wedlock goes to smash often than any other is the lack of understanding that the husband and wife of each other's jobs, and the belief that each of them is to be expected in the transaction and deal the other got the soft end of the bargain.

And undoubtedly it will make for greater sympathy and understanding and give each more patience with the other. The husband knows from experience how many steps it takes to get even a simple meal, and how nerve-racking taking care of a family is. The wife knows from having suffered these things how much the husband's work can be, and how one's very soul can be torn with anxiety when the husband's work is so great.

And the wife's work is so great that she can be torn with anxiety when the husband's work is so great.

Friend of Friendless, Charles Hill Marking 25th Year in Position

Friend of the friendless children, known throughout the length and breadth of this province as one of its most humanitarian residents, Charles B. Hill child placing officer for the Alberta government on Wednesday was receiving congratulations on the 25th anniversary of his appointment to the post.

Smiling at all times, cheerful under circumstances that would try the patience of the most patient and always working for the betterment of young Alberta and occupying one of the most difficult posts in the provincial service, Mr. Hill has won friends in all sections of this province, as well as in some parts of the United States.

As child placement officer in the provincial Child Welfare Bureau, it is his duty to place homeless children, or those who, for one reason or another, parents want to find homes for elsewhere; it is also Mr. Hill's duty to find the type of children wanted by persons desiring to adopt them. In addition to this, he is called upon to find homes for young Albertans who, through force of circumstances or other reasons must be placed in homes other than those of their parents.

MAKES MATCHES

It is a difficult task. As far as possible Mr. Hill "matches" the parentless and the child to be placed. He must be satisfied on the physical fitness of the child and those desiring to adopt children must also establish their ability to care for children.

Mr. Hill is an Englishman by birth, having first seen the light of day in the county of Cornwall. Later he moved to Margate, Kent, and on May 1, 1916, landed at St. John, N. B., determined to carve out his fortune in the new world. In England he had been engaged in a "poor law service," somewhat similar to the work in which he is now engaged, only it dealt with adults. Arriving in this country he proceeded direct to Cobalt, in the heart of the silver mining country, where he had a brother. Mr. Hill plunged into the mining business, working at mashing, decking, as a machinist and other callings. In 1911 he came here and almost immediately joined the service of the C.W.B. serving as assistant storekeeper. Then he was transferred to the mechanical department and was the locomotive foreman's clerk. Later he was promoted to the post of chief clerk of the major mechanic.

ENTERS WELFARE WORK

In 1915 Mr. Hill resigned from the C.W.B. and entered the provincial government service as child welfare inspector. In 1922 he was appointed chief clerk and the next year he was advanced to his present post of child placing officer.

At that time there were between 500 and 600 children in the province awaiting placement. In the early days, said Mr. Hill, people did not want to take babies. They wanted children of two or three years. He saw that he would have to educate the people to accept babies for adoption.

Mr. Hill sought assistance from the Victorian Order of Nurses and other welfare organizations and soon there was a demand for babies.

Mr. Hill cannot recall the first baby he placed, but he does recall the first placed through the assistance of the newspapers. There were three children of one family, two girls and a boy. The mother of these children had been a ward of the government and when she died, she left a wish that they be placed through the child welfare department. Mr. Hill brought the children here, from Calgary, had their pictures taken and printed them in the papers at Christmas time, with and appeal that they be placed. The response was quick and they were placed in good homes.

That commenced Mr. Hill's annual Christmas appeal to place babies, which has been a feature in The Bulletin each year. So successful has this appeal been that there are still 34 applications for babies waiting to be filled from last Christmas appeal. At Christmas the demand is for boys, seldom are girls asked for at Christmas, although there is a demand for them during the rest of the year, usually up until the end of October.

Since 1928, when Mr. Hill commenced the placing of children in a big way, more than 11,000 children have been placed through his office of whom 4,800 have been under three years old.

Mr. Hill keeps track of his little charges, and frequently he has followed their careers until they are 17 or 18 years old.

MANY ARE SUCCESSFUL

Many of them have been outstandingly successful. Some have taken their places in the business life of this and other provinces. Many are nurses and teachers in Alberta were placed by Mr. Hill, as have many other girls and boys—who have adopted business careers. Some girls have become missionaries in foreign climes.

"There is not a street in this city nor a town in this province but children placed there by the child welfare branch," said Mr. Hill. In one small town near this city there are no fewer than 40 such children.

Many delinquent boys have been placed on farms, as well. Not since 1922 has an Alberta delinquent been sent from this province. There are more than 100 such boys in rural homes now and Mr. Hill reports that 88 per cent of such boys make good.

Another work carried out by the branch is the placing of boys and girls on farms for holidays after contact is made with families. Last year 125 boys and girls were provided with holidays by the means and 40 per cent of them remained permanently on the farms.

"The day of looking down on the adopted child is over," he said. "These kids generally turn out very well and in some cases better than the family's own children."

In a few cases babies have been sent to the United States and a recent one went to the home of a university professor. Babies are only sent to the U.S. under exceptional circumstances and signature of a supreme court judge is required before this is done.

SOME ENLIST

Mr. Hill is especially proud of the fact that between 60 and 70 of the boys he has placed in recent years enlisted and went overseas with Edmonton units of the C.A.S.F. Many of these boys called on him before they went. More boys than girls were placed last year.

Since January 1 of this year, 68 babies have been placed and of these 33 were born this year. Many of the babies placed were only two or three weeks old at the time. Last Saturday three were placed, the youngest being 10 days old and the oldest three weeks.

Mr. Hill has received every assistance and aid from T. B. Blaine, superintendent of the branch and Miss Viola Murray, who is a member of the staff of the branch.

Spring's New Style Scene!

FASHION SUNDAY

★ MAY 5th

IT'S Springtime in Edmonton! It's time to get out in the glorious sunshine. It's time to dress up in new clothes—just as Nature dresses in new raiment every Spring.

All Edmonton is going to be out in The Fashion Parade, Sunday, May 5th. Since Easter gave so little encouragement to the wearing of Spring finery, Mr. and Mrs. Edmonton will have an opportunity to pay tribute to Fashion and will appear in full force for a downtown promenade. Cameras will click as newspaper photographers record happy faces and fashionable clothes on men, women and children.

Downtown Edmonton will be an exciting place that day, with streets fresh-cleaned, shop windows sparkling and hundreds of gay people strolling "on the Avenue." Edmonton stores are ready with the newest and best in Spring clothes. In Friday's issue of The Bulletin you will find the answer to your needs—read the advertisements, then visit the dependable Edmonton stores Saturday. Then, on Sunday, May 5th, dressed in your new Spring outfit, step out proudly and join in The Fashion Parade.

SPARRING IN SPORT

BY JACK BEARIN

A BROWNS, a scrappy band of young baseball men who romped away with junior honors last year, and gained respectability two years ago when they closed in the senior circuit, are back in senior baseball here. Meeting in the offices of Vic Rogers, general manager of the team, Arrows cleared the debris for the forthcoming campaign in the Central Alberta League. A crowd that will include Waskas, Bruins and the Edmonton team, the Arrows and Ralph Moraisa's unnamed squad.

Harvey has always helped the young ball player. He has insisted on youth in all his teams and when he refers to his players he calls them "my kids." Vic has not only spent much time on batmen and taught them along to senior ranks, he has laid out good equipment. The majority of equipment used in last year's league was supplied by Vic. He has juvenile players running about each year and it is only natural that a young player jumping up makes him the choice with the Arrows, mainly because the majority of the Arrows players are young fellows like himself.

Arrows will also reflect senior players from his squad of last season. The Arrows' management of the former Central has stated the ground work for a good season. He only asks his choice of seniors before the Rockies. The record is well known. The Arrows will win. There is a fair bit of money that may follow a vastly different angle on the present team. It may be only a rumour and never come to life, but there is a definite undercurrent in baseball circles of the present season.

MIOLAND WILL WEAR SPECIAL SET OF SHOES

BY JACK BEARIN

LOS ANGELES, May 2.—Mioland, the California horse in the Kentucky Derby, will go into the race wearing a new set of "magical shoes."

Realistic, it now becomes known, that these "magical shoes" were worn by the famous Santa Anita bandits and Ray had had a pair when he was arrested in 1935.

Howard Ward of them as an old time gambler, the New Orleans horseman, and between those they have bought 40 of the shoes. Ward has said that the shoes are "magical" and that he has a pair of them on his feet.

REDS SCORE EIGHT RUNS IN BIG FOURTH

CINCINNATI, May 2.—The sensational nine-game winning record of Brooklyn Dodgers crashed Wednesday on the rocks of a 9-2 victory by Cincinnati Reds, National League baseball champions, who batted around in the fourth inning for eight of their runs.

For the first three innings Hugh Casey continued the no-hit spell which Tex Carleton cast over the Reds Tuesday, but when Bill Werber finally smashed a double in the fourth, the rout was on.

Louie Frey bunted safely down the first base line to move Werber to third and the wind blew the Reds' victory.

Brooklyn's big fly out of Patsie Blum's team for a single and a home run by Tex Carleton, who had a home run, his second of the season.

Harvey Grier grounded the Cincinnati first out, but Mike McCormick was hit by a pitched ball and after Eddie Jond had hit a home run, the Reds' victory was assured.

Brooklyn started boldly enough by carrying four hits in the first three innings off Werber, but after the Reds' victory was assured, the lead he gave up only two hits and two runs.

One of the hits was a home run by Pete Casanova, who had hit for the Brooklyn team in its win yesterday.

Brooklyn's 1941 record is 4-4. Cincinnati is 1-0. The Reds' victory was a 9-2.

Rookie Aids Grove As Red Sox Win

BOSTON, May 2.—Rookie Herb Bushfield in Lefty Bledsoe's relief and, after checking off a Chicago sign, pitched effectively as Boston Red Sox slugged three White Sox batters for a 12-4 victory.

Windsor Walloper Outclasses Iowan

CALGARY, May 2.—Al Delaney, 182, Windsor, Ont., heavyweight, had far too much class for Stan Savold, 198, of Des Moines, Iowa, in scoring a decisive 10-round decision in the headline of Promoter Bernie Fara's battle card at Victoria Pavilion here last night.

Outmarked and outboxed in every round Savold, a game, courageous youngster, was in bad shape when it was all over. Savold took a count of nine when Delaney landed two rights and a left to the jaw in the fifth round. A terrific left to the jaw put the Des Moines boy to the canvas for another nine count in the seventh but he came back strong before the round ended.

The main bout was overshadowed by the opening event which Buddy Leffus, Teasdale, Sask., decimated Arnold Janites, Edmonton, and the third event, in which Lindsay
